

Patrick Ellis has been in the Chamber industry since 2007, starting as the President/CEO of the Moorpark Chamber of Commerce in Ventura County. After producing many measurable improvements under the dynamic shifting conditions in a down turn market, Patrick moved on to the Murrieta Chamber of Commerce as the President/CEO. Patrick utilizes his boundless energy, great enthusiasm, strong leadership and unmistakable trademark laugh to motivate his staff, where together they have revitalized the Murrieta Chamber of Commerce.

In 2017, Patrick lead the merger of the Murrieta Chamber and the Wildomar Chamber into the Murrieta/Wildomar Chamber of Commerce. In addition, Patrick is extremely active with the Southwest California Legislative Council, a coalition of 5 chambers to address Federal, State and County legislative issues. He also sits on the board of directors for the Economic Development Coalition and was appointed by Riverside County 3rd District Supervisor, Chuck Washington to the Riverside County Workforce Development Board.

Patrick has completed the Western Association of Chamber Executives Academy, a three-year training program for the new era of Chamber Management and has served on the W.A.C.E. Conference Committee numerous times.

Patrick was born and raised in Alhambra, California, he is First Generation Irish/American. He and his wife, Caryn, have two children, Liam and Brenna.
